Teacher Walkout Is Called Off

NEW YORK (AP) — Public school teachers called off their threatened strike Sunday night and approved a new contract which included pay increases.

More than a million pupils started the fall term in New York City's 850 public schools today.

The teachers' new two-year contract will give most of them $580 more during the pace period.

Salaries now range from $5,300 to $10,455. Although the minimum salary under the contract will remain the same, the maximum will go to $11,025 on July 1, 1964.

In addition to salary increases, the contract limits class sizes, sets up improved grievance procedures, and establishes a continuing committee of school and union representatives to consider such matters as recruiting teachers and improving school conditions.

WALLACE BANS INTEGRATION

Senate's GOP Chief To Vote For Test Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader said today he will vote for ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

He also said President Kennedy plans to issue a statement that "might dispell and resolve some of the apprehensions and misgivings" concerning the treaty.

Dirksen told newsmen that his support of the treaty "has probably been envisioned" from his previous statements, but this was the first time that he had said flatly that he would vote for ratification.

Dirksen announced his support after talking with President Kennedy at the White House.

He was accompanied there by the Democratic Senate leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Dirksen said the president will send a letter to Mansfield, probably Wednesday, which will be "one of clarification and assurance."

Mansfield said he thought such a letter would prove helpful in gaining votes for ratification.

The two senators said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara who joined them at the White House meeting, concurred with the idea of a presidential letter.

While he was not specific as to the nature of the letter, Dirksen indicated it probably will stress that the treaty does not hamstring U.S. nuclear progress, pos-

President, First Lady Near Their Tenth Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten years ago, a crowd of some 3,000 broke through police lines in Newport, R.I., to catch a glimpse of a famous bridal couple.

Sightseers had come in busloads for what society writers declared was Newport's most lavish wedding since its heyday.

Kneeling on a satin cushion at the altar of St. Mary's church, John Fitzgerald Kennedy and Jacqueline Lee Bouvier exchanged marriage vows of the Roman Catholic Church. A simple wedding band, slipped on the bride's finger, sealed the marriage on Sept. 12, 1953.

Kennedy, 36, was then a freshman senator. His bride was a 24-year-old post-debutante socialite of Newport and McLean, Va., who most recently had been the inquiring camera girl for the Washington Times-Herald.

This week, as President of the United States and First Lady, the Kennedys will observe the anniversary of their marriage which caused such a stir at Newport a decade ago.

The wedding was an elaborate event from the start, with a blending of social, political and diplomatic worlds.

The Kennedys and Fitzgeralds had been in Boston politics for years, wintered at fashionable Palm Beach, Fla., and summered at Hyannis Port, Mass. The Bou-

Quintuplet Boys Born in Venezuela: Quad Girls Doing OK in Mississippi

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The stork must be bushed; he delivered quintuplet boys three days ago to a Venezuelan grandmother and quadruplet girls to a couple in Mississippi.

In Jackson, Miss., the proud father of the girl quads said that "it's a good thing I own my own grocery."

The biggest problem — other than diapers — now facing Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Harkins of Jackson is finding names for the quads.

Until then, they are "A," "B," "C," and "D."

The multiple birth Saturday night boosted the Harkins family to nine children. The oldest Harkins child is 6.

Doctors at St. Dominic's Hospital removed the Harkins quads — who all have long, black hair and a healthy wail — from twin incubators late Sunday.

Mrs. Harkins said she had been expecting twins.

"I even thought of triplets. But four!"

The father, 50, first saw his new daughters Saturday night when a nurse approached him and warned "Mr. Harkins, you'd better sit sit down."

"Here's three of them," said the nurse. "But I think there's another."

The first quad was born at 8:53 p.m. and the last one nine minutes later. Their weights range from 3 pounds, 3 ounces to 4 pounds, 11 ounces.

Hospital attendants and relatives say three of the quads are look-alikes. However, doctors termed them fraternal quadruplets rather than identical.

Statistics show only one quadruplet birth in every 1,250,000.

Meanwhile, in Maracaibo, Venezuela, a team of medical specialists kept vigil over the quintuplet boys, born three days ago two months prematurely.

The mother, Mrs. Maria Cuervo de Prieto, 34, and the infants — the third known set of quintuplets born in the Western Hemisphere — were reported by a spokesman at Maracaibo Hospital to be in satisfactory condition. The babies were placed in an incubator and given a special skimmed milk diet.

Mrs. de Prieto has five children by a previous marriage, including a daughter, 17, who recently gave birth.

The husband, Efrén Luis de Prieto, 39, a foreman for the Creole Petroleum Co., a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, has eight children from an earlier marriage. Both de Prieto and his wife are divorcees.

The quintuplets were born during a 50-minute period shortly after midnight Friday. Doctors said the first baby weighed 3 pounds, 15.5 ounces; the second 3 pounds, 4.9 ounces; the third and fourth each 3 pounds 1.4 ounces; and the fifth 4 pounds 3 ounces.

"I feel well," said Mrs. de Prieto. "There was no sickness, nor pain. It was tranquil."

Only Huntsville Is Allowed To Admit Negroes

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — State troopers sent into action by Gov. George Wallace barred Negroes today from public schools at Birmingham, Mobile and Tuskegee which the federal courts had ordered desegregated.

But Alabama's color barriers in public education at the elementary school level fell for the first time when two first grade pupils were admitted at Huntsville.

In a series of predawn executive orders, Wallace had directed that segregation be maintained at Birmingham, Mobile and Tuskegee. He was silent about Huntsville.

He alerted National Guard units at Birmingham "just in case they are needed."

Troopers in the three cities where segregation was maintained — at least for the time being — read copies of the Wallace orders to the young Negroes when they arrived for classes.

The first rejections were at Mobile. A boy and a girl who had registered at a high school last week were turned away. Their lawyers immediately filed a restraining order motion against Wallace in federal court.

At Birmingham, white pupils leaned out of school windows to shout, "Nigger go home," when a state police official told a 16-year-old boy there would be no school for him today. The boy was turned away from Ramsay High.

Thirteen Negro pupils arrived on a segregated school bus driven by a Negro a few minutes after white pupils had entered the building at Tuskegee. They never left the bus.

A patrolman stepped forward and informed them of the Wallace order. He then passed out mimeographed copies. A state trooper was in the bus with the Negroes when it departed.

Two Negro girls who approached West End High School in Birmingham were met by Col. Al Lingo, state patrol chief. Two Negro lawyers were with the girls.

"You will not be allowed to enter; leave the campus," Lingo told the group several times.

Attorney Ernest Jackson inquired: "Do I understand you are telling me to leave?"

"I'm telling you to leave immediately," Lingo said.

The group left to the jeers of more white children leaning from windows.

Joe Dolan, assistant deputy U.S. attorney general, watched the encounters at Birmingham. Prior to the confrontation at West End, Lingo gave Dolan a copy of Wallace's executive order. A Justice Department official, John Doar, also was present at Tuskegee.

The latest gubernatorial decree bore down hard on the theory that the entry of Negroes would abridge the civil rights of the (Continued on Page 2)

Counterfeit Bills Found By Agents

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — About $400,000 in counterfeit $20 dollar bills have been confiscated by Secret Service agents in a raid on a printing shop west of nearby Delaware.

It was described as the biggest counterfeiting haul ever uncovered in this area.

Arrested and charged Sunday with manufacturing counterfeit notes was Richard E. Rowlands, 34, who for the past 12 years has operated a private printing business in the rear of his basement home about a mile from the Delaware city limits on Ohio 172.

Special Agent Kenneth E. Balge of the Columbus Secret Service office said Rowlands was working along in making the bogus bills. He said Rowlands' financial difficulties apparently led him to take up counterfeiting.

None of the illegitimate money had been put into circulation, Balge said. But he said if it had been passed it would have "caused a great deal of trouble" because of its excellent workmanship, although the quality of paper being used was rather poor.

Algeria OKs One-Party Plan

Foes See Socialistic Dictatorship Looming

ALGIERS (AP) — Denounced by foes as a blueprint for dictatorship, a new constitution making Algeria a one-party Socialist state ruled by strongman Ahmed Ben Bella went into effect today.

The government announced that Algerians in Sunday's referendum approved the new constitution overwhelmingly. But the voting was marked by apathy and a boycott by the Berbers, powerful, non-Arabic foes of the premier.

Returns released by the government indicated a nearly 100 per cent approval. It estimated about 70 per cent of eligible voters cast ballots.

There was no impartial check of government figures. Reporters touring scattered areas of Algeria saw voting attendance considerably lower than reported.

The boycott centered in the Kabylie area east of Algiers, inhabited by 2 million Berbers who fought hardest in the long struggle against the French for independence. They consider Ben Bella and his followers interlopers and long ago broke with his regime.

Opposition leader Hocine Ait Ahmed had urged his Berbers to boycott the referendum, saying the constitution opened the way to dictatorship by Ben Bella.

Thus when Ben Bella becomes president next Sunday with strong powers, he will have to face up to the Berber opposition. The Berbers comprise about one-fifth of Algeria's 11 million population.

Under the new constitution, the ruling Front of National Liberation (FLN) officially becomes the only legal party with the task of setting national policy and controlling its execution.

2 Cuban Sailors Flee Castro Inferno in Canoe

PROGRESSO, Mex. (AP) — Two Cuban sailors who said they fled "the inferno of Fidel Castro" in a small canoe have appealed for political asylum here.

The captain of a Mexican sloop said the sailors had almost no food or water when he picked them up Sunday and brought them to this Yucatan Peninsula port.

U.S. Rushes Aid to 300,000 Left Homeless in Brazil Fire

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The United States rushed tons of food supplies today to about 300,000 homeless refugees fleeing from four days of uncontrolled forest fires in the drought-parched state of Parana.

Officials expressed hope that heavy rain, moving slowly northward from Argentina would end the fires that have claimed possibly 250 lives and destroyed thousands of acres of coffee plantations. Food supplies were running short.

The United States and Brazil combined in rushing powdered milk, cornmeal and flour to the refugees.

Doctor and nurse teams of the U.S. Peace Corps were reported treating about 500 injured refugees.

"The final count could be much less or much greater because there is just no way to know," he said. "Many families are separated but most of the men are probably fighting the fires somewhere."

He estimated that 300,000 persons out of a state population of 2.1 million, were burned out of their homes.

The fires, scattered over 50 areas, apparently dealt a severe blow to the coffee crop. Parana is Brazil's biggest coffee-producing state.

Arkansas Beauty Wins Miss America

NEW YORK (AP) — A year of excitement and glamor is under way today for Donna Axum, the Arkansas beauty who is Miss America of 1964.

Donna, 21, checked into a New York hotel Sunday night from the pageant at Atlantic City, N.J., for some solid rest before a full round of activities.

The figure that helped her defeat 51 other contestants and win the Miss America crown Saturday night may suffer if the pace becomes too hectic.

"I can walk around town and lose two pounds," the brown-eyed queen from El Dorado, Ark. said Sunday when asked how she maintained her 35-23-35 form.

"I like to eat and I do eat. Everything and all the time, at regular meals and in between."

Donna is 5 feet 6½ inches tall and weighs 124 pounds.

Donna's first ambition, after this year is over, is to return to the University of Arkansas, complete her education and then undertake graduate work in radio and television entertainment.

Barbershop Sit-in Slated Next Week

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP) — Sometime within the next week, the Antioch Committee on Racial Equality plans to stage a sit-in at Lewis Genger's barbershop here.

Some 50 Antioch College students, members of the committee, voted Sunday to demonstrate at the shop for the fourth time since the barber refused to cut Negroes' hair.

Genger says he does not know how to cut Negroes' hair and a court ruling has upheld his right to refuse service to anyone.

The committee's decision to demonstrate follows a picketing incident Saturday. Five persons were arrested and charged with contempt of court for violating an injunction which limits picketing outside the shop to four persons at a time.

gates. The U.S. Food for Peace program ordered foodstuffs flown and trucked in.

Brazilian President Joao Goulart called for an all-out effort to help Parana. The government has ordered $1 million in federal funds released to Parana Gov. Ney Braga.

"Now only rain can save us from total defeat," said Col. Italo Conte, head of the fire-fighting effort, in a telephone interview from Curitiba, capital of Parana. There has been no appreciable rain in the state since January.

Conte had said 250 persons perished in the fires but revised his estimate.

"The final count could be much less or much greater because there is just no way to know," he said. "Many families are separated but most of the men are probably fighting the fires somewhere."

He estimated that 300,000 persons out of a state population of 2.1 million, were burned out of their homes.

Red Chinese Say Khrush Uses U.S. Lies

TOKYO (AP) — Red China today accused Premier Khrushchev and other Soviet leaders of picking "up the spittle" of the United States to attack the Chinese Communist party.

It said Khrushchev and others had "sunk to such depths" they do not hesitate to lie to the Russian people.

The Chinese also accused the Russians of quoting Peking out of context in an effort to prove Red China has a "war itch." They denied Soviet charges that they would promote revolution by a world war.

"Khrushchev and company have become so shameless as to pick up the spittle of U.S. imperialism and undisguisedly use the lies invented by the United States to snarl at the great, Marxist-Leninist Communist party of China," Peking said.

The new outburst in the word battle between the two Communist giants appeared in an article in the theoretical journal Red Flag. The text of the article was broadcast by the New China News Agency.

Record Audience Hears Billy Graham

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, ending his most successful U.S. crusade, told what was perhaps the largest U.S. religious gathering in history: "If we are to survive as a nation, we must go back to the faith of our fathers."

Around him in Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum Sunday night — filling every seat and spreading a carpet of humanity across the football field — was a throng counted by the Graham group at 134,254.

Outside the gates, police were turning away another 20,000 persons.

Wife of Ex-GI Given Freedom

Mate of Turncoat Plans Home in U.S.

HONG KONG (AP) — The Chinese wife of U.S. turncoat Scott Rush said today she believes their deep love for each other persuaded Red Chinese officials to permit her to leave with him for a new life in the United States.

"The Chinese Communist authorities were sure my husband will take good care of me," said 31-year-old Shanghai-born Helen K. H. Rush. "They had been quite aware of our love for each other."

She said that since she was uninterested in politics, the only consideration the Communists could have had in weighing her application to leave was her own welfare in an "abiding love" for her as a guaranty for her future life.

Helen arrived from Red China Saturday with her husband and year-old daughter Betty on their way to the United States.

Rush, a 31-year-old Army sergeant from Marietta, Ohio, said he had been trying to leave Red China for seven years. He said he intends to visit his mother in Tucson, Ariz., then settle on the U.S. West Coast.

Mrs. Rush said she will try to learn the American way of life and get along with the people. According to her husband, she "understands 60 per cent and speaks 30 per cent of English."

Mrs. Rush, formerly a receptionist in a school in Wuhan, said she hoped to find some kind of work.

They met at a dance seven years ago.

Mrs. Rush, who received high school education before the Communists took over mainland China, said she has an instinctive liking for literature, music and dancing.

"My parents are still in Wuhan. I don't know when I'll be able to see them again," she said.

Mrs. Rush said she did not know when she would be able to leave for the United States. Her husband said U.S. consulate officials had promised to process her application for U.S. citizenship as quickly as possible.

Their visa to stay in Hong Kong expires Saturday.

Troop Plane Crashes in Clinton Field

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — An Air Force Reserve C119 "Flying Boxcar" transport plane crashed in a farm field shortly after takeoff today from Clinton County Air Force Base.

It was the first of 42 planes scheduled to take off in a three-day national troop carrier flying competition for Reservists.

None of the seven aboard appeared to be injured seriously, base officials said. They were taken by helicopter to the base hospital.

Engine failure a few seconds after takeoff was blamed for the boom transport.

While Capt. Kenneth Wolff fought to keep the plane in the air, the aircrew dumped a 3,400-pound load of oil barrels which were to have been dropped at a site on the Ft. Campbell, Ky., federal reservation as part of the competition.

Observers said the plane skidded about 300 yards on its belly through corn, hay and soybean fields on the Roy Fife farm north east of the base, but did not burn.

All aboard ran from the ship without injury except one man—T Sgt. Robert R. Guerrero, 35, also of San Antonio who suffered an elbow injury in getting out of the crew quarters.

The parachutists are here for a tournament called a rodeo. It's the seventh annual gathering of the nation's crack Air Force Reserve troop carrier fliers to test the accuracy in pinpoint parachute dropping.

Clinton County Air Force Base, whose weekend pilots won the first rodeo in 1956, is home base for the tournament.

Fliers cranked up 42 aircraft from 14 bases today for the first operation, a test of putting heavy payloads on a center at Ft. Campbell, Ky., 300 miles to the south.

There are two more tests scheduled, a night session Tuesday and (Continued on Page 2)

Statistics show only one quadruplet birth in every 1,250,000.

Meanwhile, in Maracaibo, Venezuela, a team of medical specialists kept vigil over the quintuplet boys, born three days ago two months prematurely.

The mother, Mrs. Maria Cuervo de Prieto, 34, and the infants—the third known set of quintuplets born in the Western Hemisphere—were reported by a spokesman at Maracaibo Hospital to be in satisfactory condition. The babies were placed in an incubator and given a special skimmed milk diet.

Mrs. de Prieto has five children by a previous marriage, including a daughter, 17, who recently gave birth.

The husband, Efrén Luis de Prieto, 39, a foreman for the Creole Petroleum Co., a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, has eight children from an earlier marriage. Both de Prieto and his wife are divorcees.

The quintuplets were born during a 50-minute period shortly after midnight Friday. Doctors said the first baby weighed 3 pounds, 15.5 ounces; the second 3 pounds, 4.9 ounces; the third and fourth each 3 pounds 1.4 ounces; and the fifth 4 pounds 3 ounces.

"I feel well," said Mrs. de Prieto. "There was no sickness, nor pain. It was tranquil."

Counterfeit Bills Found By Agents

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — About $400,000 in counterfeit $20 dollar bills have been confiscated by Secret Service agents in a raid on a printing shop west of nearby Delaware.

It was described as the biggest counterfeiting haul ever uncovered in this area.

Arrested and charged Sunday with manufacturing counterfeit notes was Richard E. Rowlands, 34, who for the past 12 years has operated a private printing business in the rear of his basement home about a mile from the Delaware city limits on Ohio 172.

Special Agent Kenneth E. Balge of the Columbus Secret Service office said Rowlands was working alone in making the bogus bills. He said Rowlands' financial difficulties apparently led him to take up counterfeiting.

None of the illegitimate money had been put into circulation, Balge said. But he said if it had been passed it would have "caused a great deal of trouble" because of its excellent workmanship, although the quality of paper being used was rather poor.

U.S. Rushes Aid to 300,000 Left Homeless in Brazil Fire

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The United States rushed tons of food supplies today to about 300,000 homeless refugees fleeing from four days of uncontrolled forest fires in the drought-parched state of Parana.

Officials expressed hope that heavy rain, moving slowly northward from Argentina would end the fires that have claimed possibly 250 lives and destroyed thousands of acres of coffee plantations. Food supplies were running short.

The United States and Brazil combined in rushing powdered milk, cornmeal and flour to the refugees.

Doctor and nurse teams of the U.S. Peace Corps were reported treating about 500 injured refugees.

There was no impartial check of government figures. Reporters touring scattered areas of Algeria saw voting attendance considerably lower than reported.

The boycott centered in the Kabylie area east of Algiers, inhabited by 2 million Berbers who fought hardest in the long struggle against the French for independence. They consider Ben Bella and his followers interlopers and long ago broke with his regime.

Opposition leader Hocine Ait Ahmed had urged his Berbers to boycott the referendum, saying the constitution opened the way to dictatorship by Ben Bella.

Thus when Ben Bella becomes president next Sunday with strong powers, he will have to face up to the Berber opposition. The Berbers comprise about one-fifth of Algeria's 11 million population.

Under the new constitution, the ruling Front of National Liberation (FLN) officially becomes the only legal party with the task of setting national policy and controlling its execution.

Barbershop Sit-in Slated Next Week

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP) — Sometime within the next week, the Antioch Committee on Racial Equality plans to stage a sit-in at Lewis Genger's barbershop here.

Some 50 Antioch College students, members of the committee, voted Sunday to demonstrate at the shop for the fourth time since the barber refused to cut Negroes' hair.

Genger says he does not know how to cut Negroes' hair and a court ruling has upheld his right to refuse service to anyone.

The committee's decision to demonstrate follows a picketing incident Saturday. Five persons were arrested and charged with contempt of court for violating an injunction which limits picketing outside the shop to four persons at a time.

Only Huntsville Is Allowed To Admit Negroes

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — State troopers sent into action by Gov. George Wallace barred Negroes today from public schools at Birmingham, Mobile and Tuskegee which the federal courts had ordered desegregated.

But Alabama's color barriers in public education at the elementary school level fell for the first time when two first grade pupils were admitted at Huntsville.

In a series of pre-dawn executive orders, Wallace had directed that segregation be maintained at Birmingham, Mobile and Tuskegee. He was silent about Huntsville.

He alerted National Guard units at Birmingham "just in case they are needed."

JFK's Spending Rate Increase Said Slower than under Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, a Republican, said today federal spending has grown at a slower rate during the Kennedy administration than during the last three years of Dwight D. Eisenhower was in the White House.

In an exclusive Associated Press interview, Dillon said "it is hard to put a spending tag on one administration as compared to a previous one with that sort of record unless you are ready to attack defense and space."

Dillon served under Eisenhower as undersecretary of state and was named to his present post by President Kennedy.

He said he is still optimistic about chances for passage of the tax cut bill, which he said will "do more for our economy and more for curing the balance of payments than any step I know."

Dillon said he is counting on increased public support in the next few weeks to speed congressional action on the tax bill, which would provide for a reduction of about $11 billion in individual and corporate income taxes.

Dillon believes that a Brookings Institute report, which forecast that the basic imbalance would be corrected by 1968, was "overly optimistic on the trade side. Consequently, I think we might do better in some of the other areas as diverting more foreign aid buying to the United States."

Regarding the tax bill, he predicted the most important support for it during the crucial Senate consideration "will come from organized groups—the business community, for instance, and labor."

Dillon said unless Congress acts on the bill this year, most Americans probably won't enjoy any benefits in terms of bigger take-home pay until April 1964. The reason, he said, is that the withholding rate could not be reduced until Congress said the last word.

He rejected suggestions that the administration might speed the tax cut by formally postponing some of its domestic programs. Dillon denied that the official Kennedy family is divided into economy and pro-spending blocs.

Most of the increased spending under the present administration, Dillon argued, has been for defense, space activities and interest on the public debt. The latter item, he said, "is uncontrollable."

"All the increases during the three years of this administration were less than they were during the last three years of the preceding administration," he said.

Troop Plane

a drop of paratroops Wednesday. The co-pilot, Capt. E. Meyer, 39, a rancher from Moulton, Texas, praised Capt. Wolff and quoted him as saying, "I didn't give up."

"And he didn't give up, either," said Meyer. "He rode that plane all the way down."

Others in the plane were: Capt. J. Russell Ford, 39, of San Antonio, the navigator; St. Guerero, the flight engineer; T-Sgt. Relfer F. Schilling, 40, of San Antonio, the loadmaster; Sgt. Gerardo Hinojosa, 32, loadmaster from San Antonio and the Associated Press reporter, Peter Brewster.

Also aboard was Lt. Col. Emmett O. Kirschbaum, a rancher from Mountain Home Ark. who was sitting in as umpire for the flight. Capt. Meyer praised the courage of Sgt. Schilling who when the plane was in trouble, got the heavy load ready for ditching.

"Sgt. Schilling was in a crash like this only one month ago but he still had the presence of mind to work quickly and accurately to get that load out," Meyer said. "He must have been very brave."

"We had to get rid of it quick before we landed or we would have been in trouble."

The starboard engine began to backfire and spit flames while still climbing after what started as a perfect takeoff.

The starboard engine began to backfire and spit flames while still climbing after what started as a perfect takeoff.

Capt. Meyer said "I've been flying for 20 years and I've crashed landed twice but I never had one like that."

"We put on full power but we still couldn't climb. One thing I've always believed when we have trouble is that I don't want to kill any persons down below us."

"We had to miss a farmhouse with that load and we had trouble ahead with a tree in front of us."

"When we went down in that pea patch I looked ahead and there was that tree as big around as I am and I thought here we go."

"But we curved right around it."

"We were too low to turn the aircraft back toward the base and I finally got on the controls to help Capt. Wolff because it was a hard job holding it."

"We put on full power and we didn't go nowhere but down."

After the load was dropped in a cornfield Sgt. Schilling and the other loadmaster hung on as the plane tipped toward the ground.

Both men said the side of the plane began buckling in on them as they sat in safety belts and Schilling's parachute was jammed fast. He had to unbuckle it before he could run clear.

"Get out," he yelled as soon as the plane stopped in the field and the crew scrambled fast. The plane had taken off with a full load of fuel for the mission.

Stiff Fine, Jail Sentence Handed Columbus Resident

William H. Scarbro, 40, Columbus, was fined a total of $350 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court today.

Judge Sterling Lamb found the Columbus resident guilty of charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants and of driving while his license was under revocation.

The fine was $100 and costs for driving with his license under revocation. Judge Lamb handed a 15-day jail sentence, to run concurrently with the first on the charge. The Judge noted that Scarbro had been convicted of an OMV charge in May of this year in the Gallipolis Municipal Court.

Stock Market Prices Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels moved forward in a mixed stock market early this afternoon with trading fairly active.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional, some going to a point or so.

The "glamour" issues, as usual, provided some faster action—both ways.

A general retreat by rails was discouraging to stock market theorists who believe that rails must "confirm" the rise of industrials to provide the technical foundation for a continued market rise.

Drugs and building materials also declined. Motors, oils, chemicals and nonferrous metals were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 280.1 with industrials up .4, rails off .2 and utilities up .1.

U.S. Steel was up nearly a point while Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin added fractions.

white pupils "and deprive them of equal protection of the laws."

The new Wallace course seemed to be following a decision by federal Judge Frank Scarlett in a Savannah, Ga., school desegregation case earlier this year. Scarlett ordered segregation continued but was promptly reversed by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The case has been appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Wallace and a group of attorneys who appeared with him on a statewide television network Sunday night pointed to the Scarlett ruling and said the issue of interracial schools still was in the courts. They denied that the 1954 Supreme Court decision voiding public school segregation is "the law of the land."

The showdown came on the heels of more violence in racially-battered Birmingham. Two fire bombs were hurled at the home of a Negro millionaire, A. G. Gaston, early Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Gaston escaped injury and their $150,000 home was damaged only slightly.

In his television report a few hours later, Wallace again decried violence and urged Alabamians to continue their fight against integration lawfully.

Last Wednesday night dynamite bombs badly damaged the home of Arthur D. Shores, prominent Negro attorney, and police clashed with Negroes in the streets adjacent to his home. One Negro was killed and 20 persons injured in the rioting that followed.

JFK's Spending Rate Increase Said Slower than under Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, a Republican, said today federal spending has grown at a slower rate during the Kennedy administration than during the last three years of Dwight D. Eisenhower was in the White House.

In an exclusive Associated Press interview, Dillon said "it is hard to put a spending tag on one administration as compared to a previous one with that sort of record unless you are ready to attack defense and space."

Dillon served under Eisenhower as undersecretary of state and was named to his present post by President Kennedy.

He said he still is optimistic about chances for passage of the tax cut bill, which he said will "do more for our economy and more for curing the balance of payments than any step I know."

Dillon said he is counting on increased public support in the next few weeks to speed congressional action on the tax bill, which would provide for a reduction of about $11 billion in individual and corporate income taxes.

Dillon believes that a Brookings Institute report, which forecast that the basic imbalance would be corrected by 1968, was "overly optimistic on the trade side. Consequently, I think we might do better in some of the other areas as diverting more foreign aid buying to the United States."

Regarding the tax bill, he predicted the most important support for it during the crucial Senate consideration "will come from organized groups—the business community, for instance, and labor."

Dillon said unless Congress acts on the bill this year, most Americans probably won't enjoy any benefits in terms of direct take-home pay until April 1964. The reason, he said, is that the withholding rate could not be reduced until Congress said the last word.

He rejected suggestions that the administration might speed the tax cut by formally postponing some of its domestic programs. Dillon denied that the official Kennedy family is divided into economy and pro-spending blocs.

Most of the increased spending under the present administration, Dillon argued, has been for defense, space activities and interest on the public debt. The latter item, he said, "is uncontrollable." "All the increases during the three years of this administration were less than they were during the last three years of the preceding administration," he said.

Troop Plane

a drop of paratroops Wednesday. The co-pilot, Capt. E. Meyer, 39, a rancher from Moulton, Texas, praised Capt. Wolff and quoted him as saying, "I didn't give up."

"And he didn't give up, either," said Meyer. "He rode that plane all the way down."

Others in the plane were: Capt. J. Russell Ford, 39, of San Antonio, the navigator; St. Guerero, the flight engineer; T-Sgt. Relfer F. Schilling, 40, of San Antonio, the loadmaster; Sgt. Gerardo Hinojosa, 32, loadmaster from San Antonio and the Associated Press reporter, Peter Brewer.

Also aboard was Lt. Col. Emmett O. Kirschbaum, a rancher from Mountain Home Ark. who was sitting in as umpire for the flight. Capt. Meyer praised the courage of Sgt. Schilling who when the plane was in trouble, got the heavy load ready for ditching.

"Sgt. Schilling was in a crash like this only one month ago but he still had the presence of mind to work quickly and accurately to get that load out," Meyer said. "He must have been very brave."

"We had to get rid of it quick before we landed or we would have been in trouble," the starboard engine began to backfire and spit flames while still climbing after what started as a perfect takeoff.

Capt. Meyer said "I've been flying for 20 years and I've crash landed twice but I never had one like that."

"We put on full power but we still couldn't climb. One thing I've always believed when we have trouble is that I don't want to kill any persons down below."

"We had to miss a farmhouse with that load and we had trouble ahead with a tree in front of us. When we went down in that pea patch I looked ahead and there was that tree as big around as I am and I thought here we go."

"But we curved right around it. We were too low to turn the aircraft back toward the base and I finally got on the controls to help Capt. Wolff because it was a hard job holding it."

"We put on full power and we didn't go nowhere but down."

After the load was dropped in a cornfield Sgt. Schilling and the other loadmaster hung on as the plane tipped toward the ground.

Both men said the side of the plane began buckling in on them as they sat in safety belts and Schilling's parachute was jammed fast. He had to unbuckle it before he could run clear.

"Get out," he yelled as soon as the plane stopped in the field and the crew scrambled fast. The plane had taken off with a full load of fuel for the mission.

This is the seventh annual such competition for carrier commands.

Stock Market Prices Rocket To New Highs

Many Bulls, Public
Convinced Business
Prospects Look Good

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices as measured by the three most followed averages have made a new high. So the bulls at least are convinced that the prospects for industry and trade are good and getting better. And the public which usually looks to the stock market for such hints is likely to think so, too.

Record highs were set Thursday by the Dow-Jones index if 30 industrial stocks and the 30 Associated Press industrials. Standard & Poor's 425 industrials had reached a new peak two days earlier. All closed the week higher than the December 1961 or January 1962 records.

If these averages are used as a measure, the stock market had erased all of the losses in the troubled first half of 1962, including the steep drops of late May and June.

But many individual stocks had not. And some industry groups were still depressed. A lot of the blue-chips are still below their record highs, some well below.

So your view of the market is either exuberant or disappointed depending on what stocks you own (and when you got them).

The Dow-Jones industrial index had dropped 199.15 points, from its old high of 734.91 set December 13, 1961, to a June 1962 low of 535.76. By Thursday it had bounced back 202.22 points to 737.98, and its Friday closing at 735.37 was still ahead of the old mark.

The index is weighted to allow for the many stock splits, substitutions and other changes in the list over the years. The actual average price of the 30 stocks was about $57 in the 1962 low and $73 at last week's high.

The AP average of 30 industrials hit a low of 285.8 in June 1962 and was up 110.7 points to its new high of 396.5 Thursday sliding to 395.1 Friday.

There are 21 stocks that appear on both lists. The AP index also is weighted for changes, but it started in 1935 compared with 1897 for Dow-Jones, and so the weighting is less, and the index figure smaller.

Standard and Poor's index began in 1957 and also is weighted for such things as the number of shares outstanding in each component. Its 1961 record was topped last week at 76.65 the 425 stocks sliding Friday to 76.53.

Although the Dow-Jones industrial index set a new high last week, only seven of the 30 stocks made their record tops this year. Of these two bettered their previous marks Thursday, one going still higher Friday.

All 30 sold below their top prices in 1962. Still standing are historic records set by 8 in 1961: 4 in 1960; 5 in 1959; 1 in 1958; 4 in 1956; while goes back to 1955 for its best days.

Helping to send the market up have been: hopes of tax cuts, better than expected business gains, rising earnings and dividend payments, and above all the increasingly available money for stock purchases by pension, trust and mutual funds and by banks and insurance companies.

More than 15 million pounds of soft latex foam rubber went into pillow production in 1962.

WANTS BACK — The U.S. Army said in West Berlin that there are no plans to ask East Germany to release Capt. Alfred Svenson (above), who defected to East Germany last May 4 and reportedly now wants to return. Svenson, 30, is from Scranton, Pa.

Farm Roundup

Crop Reports May Reveal New Records

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government crop reports this week may show that farm production this year is headed for a record high. The Agriculture Department planned to issue a cotton production report today and another on other crops Tuesday.

Cotton, of course, will run below last year because of a cutback in plantings under a government control program designed to prevent a further increase in surpluses.

But the general crop report—covering grains, forage, oilseed, sugar, fruit, vegetable, nut and tobacco crops—may indicate that production prospects are at a level equaling if not surpassing the record set last year. In its August report, the department said production at that time appeared to be less than 1 per cent below last year's record.

However, since that time, crops in most sections of that country have progressed favorably. It would be no trick at all for the harvest outlook to increase more than 1 per cent to reach a new peak.

Gains over August estimates were considered possible for corn, wheat, soybeans, other feed grains, potatoes and possibly some fruits.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department reported today that foreign workers made up 5 per cent of the seasonal workers employed in agriculture in mid-July.

Total seasonal employment was reported at 1,119,621. There were 1,061,647 U.S. workers and 57,974 foreigners, mostly Mexicans.

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department study showed today that the Great Plains region has led all sections of the country in reducing wheat acreages since 1951. During this period government control programs have sought, with no great success, to reduce overproduction of this grain.

The acreage seeded to wheat was reduced 32 per cent for the country as a whole between 1951 and this year. The Great Plains reduction was 34 per cent, the Corn Belt, the Pacific Northwest 33 per cent and the South 27 per cent.

The acreage planted was 78.5 million in 1951 and 53.2 million this year.

Cannons Salute Big Victory By Adm. Perry on Lake Erie

PUT-IN-BAY (AP) — Cannons boomed off the coast of South Bass Island in Lake Erie Sunday, a century and a half after the guns of nine little U.S. navy ships shattered the British fleet and started unprecedented peace between the United States and Canada.

The salute was part of a two-hour ceremony at the base of the Perry Victory and Peace Monument here commemorating the victory Sept. 10, 1813, by the fleet of Lt. Oliver Hazard Perry over six British ships.

The victory ended British control of Lake Erie and was a turning point in the War of 1812.

About 3,000 persons crowded around the 352-foot monument as representatives of Canada and the United States praised the peaceful co-existence period.

"The relationship should be advertised . . . that two free and independent countries can live and work together," Ivan V. MacDonald, Canadian consul at Detroit, said. "It is a relationship that should be followed elsewhere in this troubled world."

Victor M. Longstreet, assistant secretary of the Navy, called the nearly 4,000 miles of unguarded boundary between the nations

"one of the world's greatest achievements in international peace."

Looking out over the boat-dotted bay in front of the monument, Longstreet said, "May struggles for freedom going on in the world today end as the one we commemorate here today, in lasting peace that benefits equally those who win and those who are defeated."

MacDonald commented that the War of 1812 was one of the few wars in history in which both sides benefited and continue to benefit.

Among more than a score of guests were two descendants of Perry, Navy Ensign Matthew C. Perry, a great-grandnephew, and Danie Wooley of Norwalk, a great-great-grandson. It was the first meeting of the two and the first time Ensign Perry had visited the scene of his ancestor's victory.

The monument, the second-highest structure of its kind in the nation, is located on a narrow neck of land on South Bass Island north of Port Clinton. Perry met the British fleet about two miles northwest of here, a spot which can be seen from the top of the monument.

About 100 private boats and Navy vessels were anchored off the coast. The USS Hollidaysburg fired the salute to Perry at 3 p.m.—the hour of victory on Lake Erie.

INDICTED — Roy M. Cohn (upper), the "boy wonder" counsel of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy's Communist investigations, and (lower) attorney Murray E. Gottesman, 56, face indictment in New York, accused of lying and trying to influence witnesses to change their testimony in the United Dye and Chemical Corp. stock fraud case. Cohn, 36, reportedly earns some $250,000 a year in law and various business interests.

Ohio Blonde Is Named Miss Teen-Ager of '63

FORT LEE, N.J. (AP)—Paul-ette Breen, a 16-year-old blonde from Rossford, Ohio, is Miss American Teenager of 1963. The blue-green eyed girl won out over 34 other finalists from all parts of the country Saturday night at Palisades Amusement Park.

Contestants were judged on poise, personality, beauty of face and figure, scholastic achievement and community leadership.

Traffic Death Report Listed

Ohio drivers held traffic deaths during the first seven months of this year to the 1962 level, despite increased highway travel, according to the State Department of Highway Safety.

Pickaway County showed an increase with 10 deaths in the seventh-month period of 1963 compared to four in 1962 for the similar period.

Warren G. Nelson, highway safety director, reported that traffic deaths during the first seven months of 1963 totalled 1,051, two over the figure for the same period in 1962.

Nelson said "Our final tally for the period would have been more favorable, had we not had the upsurge of multiple death accidents during the month of July. We are grateful that Ohio drivers are applying themselves to the task of good, safe practices and urge them to continue to practice caution, care and courtesy."

Among those killed in traffic during this year were 526 drivers, 297 passengers, 182 pedestrians, and 21 bicyclist. A total of 755 or 72 per cent were rural deaths; 296 or 28 per cent were urban.

Canadian Tropics?

Canada's links with the West Indies go far back in history. The Maritime Provinces had a thriving trade with the islands in the days of plantation slaves and sailing ships.

This connection has been maintained to the present day, but close though it may be the majority of Canadians would not like to see it become so intimate that some of the islands would form an eleventh Canadian province. And that was a suggestion made by Ganan Audley Johnson of Barbados, who is visiting Canada.

One West Indian federation has failed. Faltering steps are being made toward the formation of another, grouping seven islands together. If this fails, the canon says there will be a body of public opinion in favor of union with Canada.

After the Storm

Now that Britain's Lord Chief Justice Denning has completed his inquiry into the so-called Profumo scandal his report, expected in September, is awaited with keen curiosity.

In an age in which "images" are important, to what extent has the reputation of Britain been tarnished in the eyes of the world? This is a question manifestly hard to answer without an international survey.

Every scandal leaves behind it a bitter residue which only time can waste away. Britain has had moral scandals in her political life many times before. The case of Sir Charles Dilke — who in 1885 when a cabinet minister was cited as co-respondent in a divorce case and was ruined in consequence — was notorious in its day. And so too was the Parnell divorce case.

Parnell, brilliant leader of the Irish Nationalists, was utterly ruined when cited as co-respondent by his intimate friend. The Victorians of the day relished both

At this time Canada faces a big enough problem in preserving its existing unity without adding another conflicting element. Most of the West Indian islands suffer from chronic unemployment. Poverty is widespread, birth rates are high. If a group of these islands were to become a province Canada would have to open its doors to mass immigration.

Problems of unimaginable difficulty would have to be faced, not the least of which would be providing jobs for unskilled workers in an economy in which opportunities for the unskilled are diminishing.

It would appear that Canada has problems enough of her own without accepting those of a tropical annex.

Jumping to Some Conclusions

There is a great deal of prattle about the difference between the sexes.

cases. Now they have faded into the history books and become material for latter-day playwrights.

In Britain today there is anxiety, and it does not affect the Profumo affair as such, but the manner in which the legal aspects of the affair were handled. Was the light thrown in all the dark corners? Were all the witnesses called who should have been called in the cases to which the scandal gave rise? In the famous words of Lord Chief Justice Hewart, was justice not only done, but manifestly seen to have been done?

Like comets in the sky, scandals cast a lurid light and are swiftly gone, but British justice is a cornerstone of liberty and there are people who wonder whether it has been compromised in this affair. And so the Denning report is anxiously awaited in the hope that lingering doubts will be swept away and important intangibles seen to have survived a passing storm of scandal.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH... By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

The distress of migraine can be appreciated only by those unfortunate enough to suffer from it. Millions of people in America are plagued by this specific form of headache.

Migraine most often occurs in highly alert, tense, driving, ambitious, intelligent young adults. It frequently repeats itself in families.

The common characteristic of migraine that distinguishes it from a vast group of headaches is the recurring periodic pain over one side of the head. This intense and penetrating pain in an eyeball or temple is often accompanied by nausea and temporary changes of vision. Many sufferers from migraine can actually foretell the onset of an attack by what is called an "aura"—any one of a variety of strange feelings that for the individual, has come to mean the beginning of an attack.

The exact cause of migraine still eludes the investigation of scientists. However, it is agreed that migraine is associated with a distention of the blood vessels of the brain. As with any other obscure conditions, allergy is a prime, but indefinite, suspect. Emotional disturbance, stress and anxiety can always be relied on as contributory to the causes of migraine.

The reported cures for migraine are many.

Some are successful without scientific corroboration. Others, even with scientific blessings, do not fulfill their promise.

Ergotamine tartrate and its varied derivatives have been a boon to many patients who were incapacitated by severe migraine headaches. Other sufferers have found, by trial and error, their own special way of obtaining some relief.

And now from the Headache Unit of Montefiore Hospital in New York City comes great hope in the form of a new and valuable drug for the prevention of migraine. This complex chemical is called, "methysergide". It has been carefully studied and found to be extremely effective in the prevention of all forms of migraine headache. It is not, however, effective as treatment during an acute attack.

In the study at the Montefiore Hospital, the drug was used under careful and strict supervision, regularly and without interruption, in order to learn its greatest value as a preventative. Like many others, this drug cannot be used by all people under all circumstances.

Should historians try to make history? Well, a historian is a human being like anyone else, and if he feels a sense of commitment to a cause or a person there is no rule to keep him from trying to act on events as well as to describe or analyze them.

The historian with a yearning to give history a push, however, takes his chances when he writes campaign literature instead of balanced analysis. When he produced his "Kennedy or Nixon: Does It Make Any Difference?" as his contribution to the Democratic campaign of 1960, Professor Arthur Schlesinger Jr. of Harvard assured himself of a creative role in the Kennedy Administration. His creative advice has not always been good; indeed his affinity for anything that may be described as the "non-Communist Left" has resulted in some curious adventures, notably the one that helped persuade the Christian Democrats of Italy to try their ill-fated "opening to the East." Maybe Italy and the West will survive the mistake, but President Kennedy may not survive Professor Schlesinger for another and quite inadvertent reason.

The reason has to do with Schlesinger's capacity for provoking people. When he wrote his "Kennedy or Nixon: Does It Make Any Difference?" Schlesinger made a lot of people angry because of the book's omissions. One writer, Victor Lasky, was so furious at Schlesinger's "good guy-bad guy" posing of the personalities involved in the Kennedy-Nixon fight that he set himself a job of refutation that has consumed three years. The result, a massive book called "J.F.K.: The Man and the Myth," published this coming week by Macmillan, should stand as an eternal warning that synthetic image-making breeds its inevitable come-uppance. Mr. Lasky has destroyed the Schlesinger image of the "noble" Kennedy forever.

Curiously, however, both John F. Kennedy and his father Joseph P. Kennedy emerge from Mr. Lasky's pages as sympathetic and attractive human beings. Father Joe had just as much right to make a fortune as any of the scrabbling Lowells, Lawrences and Cabots had in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries, and one can only admire the pertinacity and shrewd competitiveness that turned the Kennedy's into a moneyed clan. Because of Father Joe's money, son John was able to develop his transcendent charm, a charm that is as undeniable as that of many of the latter-day Lowells who turned the original Francis Lowell's textile fortunes to such cultivated ends.

Mr. Lasky does not deny the father's financial acumen or the son's attractiveness. But, despite Arthur Schlesinger he wants the Kennedy record to include everything, beginning with the picture of a young Congressman from Massachusetts who was very similar in many ways to a young Congressman from California named Richard Nixon.

The liberals have never forgiven Nixon for his original rise to fame as a "liberal" baiter. They still foam at the mouth when they recall Nixon's 1950 campaign for the Senate against the "liberal" Helen Gahagan Douglas. Mr. Lasky recalls a curious episode about that campaign. According to Robert W. Richards, chief of the San Diego Union's Washington Bureau, Nixon had in his corner in the fight against Mrs. Douglas no less a person than John F. Kennedy himself. Says Lasky, quoting Richards: "Shock-haired Kennedy strode into the Nixon House offices... to see Nixon's confidential secretary privately... Pulling the check for $1,000 from his pocket the Boston House member said he wanted to offer it to help out Nixon's campaign against Representative Douglas. He didn't need to spell out to the then Nixon aide that it might be embarrassing if a Democrat

Canadian Tropics?

Canada's links with the West Indies go far back in history. The Maritime Provinces had a thriving trade with the islands in the days of plantation slaves and sailing ships.

This connection has been maintained to the present day, but close though it may be the majority of Canadians would not like to see it become so intimate that some of the islands would form an eleventh Canadian province. And that was a suggestion made by Ganon Audley Johnson of Barbados, who is visiting Canada.

One West Indian federation has failed. Faltering steps are being made toward the formation of another, grouping seven islands together. If this fails, the canon says there will be a body of public opinion in favor of union with Canada.

At this time Canada faces a big enough problem in preserving its existing unity without adding another conflicting element. Most of the West Indian islands suffer from chronic unemployment. Poverty is widespread, birth rates are high. If a group of these islands were to become a province Canada would have to open its doors to mass immigration.

Problems of unimaginable difficulty would have to be faced, not the least of which would be providing jobs for unskilled workers in an economy in which opportunities for the unskilled are diminishing.

History and Historians

He didn't need to spell out to the then Nixon aide that it might be embarrassing if a Democrat member of Congress was known to be giving cash to the campaign of a Republican senatorial candidate."

This is just one anecdote from Mr. Lasky's book that portrays the youthful John F. Kennedy as Richard Nixon's spiritual twin. They were once anti-"liberal" Congressmen together; they once made a united front in baiting Reds; they once shared similar feelings about the State Department's role in precipitating catastrophe in China.

Because Arthur Schlesinger slid easily around this part of Kennedy's career, Lasky vowed his revenge. He has had it in a book that will be quoted widely. Mr. Lasky's chief objection to the Schlesinger "history" of the pre-presidential John F. Kennedy is that it made Nixon out to be a careerist and an opportunist, while it sought to establish Kennedy as the young man of principle who had had a real conversion on the road to Damascus. One does not have to contest the genuineness of the Kennedy conversion to note that Nixon, by contrast, has been the more steadfast man.

Insurance Salesman Who Sold $7 Million Policy Gives Advice

By LEONARD J. SNYDER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

LOS ANGELES — Frank Nathan is not the nation's top life insurance salesman, but he is the man who recently made life insurance history with a $7 million sale.

The annual premium of the $7 million policy on the life of an undisclosed 46-year-old executive totals $238,000. That's $34,000 for each $1 million on the insured's life.

Nathan, a 59-year-old Beverly Hills veteran of 32 years with New York Life Insurance Company, has sold more than $50 million worth of life insurance during his career, including a half dozen million dollar policies to persons ranging in age from 20 to 57, and one with a face value of $2,225,000 to a 49-year-old business man.

The annual premium on these policies total $515,000, which means a comfortable living for Nathan. What makes Nathan run? Or, put another way, what kind of salesmanship does it take to sell a million dollar life insurance policy?

Millions of American policyholders probably think of salesmen, particularly an insurance salesman, as characters who like to knock your front door down. While this may be so, Nathan thinks this type of rugged individual is on the way out because life insurance has just become too complicated to sell on the run.

"I don't have any quarrel with aggressive salesmanship, but I do feel it's better to be invited in the front door, rather than be compelled to bang it down," says the insurance ace.

Nathan doesn't put himself in that class of salesmen who can sell people something they probably don't need by some spell-binding tactics. "I rather think of myself as a technician assisting people to find the solution to their problems rather than as a salesman," he said.

"If you can call a person's attention a problem that exists, but that they do not even recognize themselves, either because of their own lack of knowledge on the subject, or because they have not taken the time to investigate it, and then present them with a solution, the sale usually follows directly."

ation, the sale usually follows directly."

In his own case, Nathan does not go out looking for million dollar insurance prospects. He says, "I just look for people who I believe have substantial needs for insurance and let the facts of their particular situation determine the amount."

As you might expect, those to whom he has sold policies for $1 million or more have estates in excess of $1 million. Five of these eight millionaires were covered under what is called "Key Man" insurance in favor of their companies.

The size of their policies was largely determined by the need for indemnification in the event of the loss of the key man.

In some of these Key Man policies, said Nathan, the proceeds would be used partially for corporation purpose and partially to help the executive solve his own problem by making it possible for the executive's retirement some of the stock he owned in the corporation.

Nathan doesn't possess "a bag of tricks" as part of his stock in trade but he does lean on some tax-saving ideas to build his sizeable volume of sales.

The principal tax saving idea he uses he describes this way: "As long as the inheritance and estate taxes are going to have to be paid in any event, why pay them with 100 cents on the dollar when insurance offers a method whereby they might be paid with discounted dollars?"

To explain this, he adds, "Let's assume that for a man of 50 the gross premium is approximately four per cent of the face value of the policy. If this insured man died after paying one premium on a policy carried specifically to pay the death taxes, he has only paid 4 per cent of the total tax and there has been a 96 per cent discount."

"If he lived 10 years, he would have only paid 40 per cent of the tax, but he would have to live beyond 75 to have ever paid his tax in full. The government will give no discount on taxes, but through the use of insurance the policyholder is almost certain to pay his tax at some discount."

Nathan points out that such professional knowledge as this appeals both economically and mathematically to any estate-owner who is willing to look realistically at his problems of transferring his estate to his beneficiaries.

And this really gets to the heart of the question of "What makes Nathan run?" He knows his business and makes sure his business is known to those in Big Business.

Business Looks Good Rest of Year

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The economy passed the Labor Day milestone with motor purring.

Businessmen consider Labor Day a second New Year's Day because it signals the end of the summer vacation period and the beginning of the usually more active fall season.

When business is good on Labor Day it usually continues favorable until the end of the year. That is the outlook this year.

With sales booming, the automobile industry was getting up steam in turning out 1964 models. Steel production was leveling out with indications of an increase close ahead. The stock market, thriving on such developments, climbed to an all-time peak.

A prediction that 7.5 million passenger cars will be sold this year and 7 million next year was made by Lee A. Iacocca, a vice president of Ford Motor Co. This was in line with earlier forecasts of General Motors and Chrysler officials.

Rushing to supply dealers with 1964 models, automakers will increase their production this month sharply over August, when the changeover from 1963s was being made. It was estimated that 500,000 cars will be turned out this month.

Forecasts from industry sources indicated that steel production this year will exceed 100 million tons for the first time since 1957. Output last week held steady with the 1,765,000 tons topping the previous week by 5 per cent.

The stock market, as measured by the popular barometer, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial issues, jumped to an all-time high. It topped the previous high established Dec. 13, 1961.

Wall Street credited good business developments — particularly favorable corporate earnings — for having lifted the market from the depths of the 1962 plunge.

In its monthly economic review the First National City Bank of New York found that business sentiment remained generally good.

Factory orders increased in July after declining the two previous months, the Commerce Department reported. Manufacturers' new orders rose 1 per cent from June to a total of about $35.5 billion.

Furniture orders and shipments advanced 9 per cent in July over July 1962, according to the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers.

Consumer installment credit continued to expand rapidly in July, moving up to a record $5,106,000,000. The net increase was $501 million.

The federal minimum wage rose to $1.25 an hour from $1.15 and at least 2.6 million workers benefited. The pay increase will cost employers an estimated $365 million a year, the Labor Department said.

Sales on the New York Stock Exchange advanced to 24,557,722 shares from the previous week's total of 23,535,130 shares. Bond sales totaled $4,822,200 par value during the week compared with the previous week's total of $21,603,280.

4 Youngsters Die as Auto Rams Train

WAUSEON, Ohio (AP) — Four teenagers winding up a Saturday night date were less than a mile from home—but they never made it.

Their bodies and remnants of their automobile were found early Sunday, more than two hours after the vehicle smashed into a Wabash Railroad freight train 11 miles south of nearby Swanton in Fulton County.

The Highway Patrol identified the victims as Howard E. Wilson, 18; Sharon Kay Franklin, 16; David Wensko, 18, and Margaret Frutchie, 18, all of Swanton, a community in Northwest Ohio.

The patrol said the accident was not discovered until the train arrived at the Toledo station, about 25 miles east of the crash scene. Trainmen saw a car door and headlight imbedded in the 46th car of the train.

The patrol and Fulton County sheriff's deputies started a search but a railroad employee in Swanton discovered the bodies.

Patrolmen said that, as near as can be determined, it appeared Wilson was the driver. Only one body was found in the car's wreckage, which was dragged along the track to a spot about 600 yards from the crossing.

The other victims were thrown out and their bodies were found 100 to 400 yards from the crossing.

A LIFE AMBITION—Snowey Tobin, whose job is sweeping London's Westminster Bridge, fulfills a fond ambition by sweeping Times Square in New York. The London "street orderly" saved for 17 years to get money for this trip.

County Inmates Are Denied Pay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe has issued a ruling saying that inmates of a county home cannot be compensated for duties and chores performed, from funds provided under sections of the Ohio Revised Code.

In his opinion, Saxbe says there is no statutory authority for paying inmates for such chores.

The opinion, issued at the request of John S. Ballard, Summit County prosecuting attorney, also rules that presentation of a voucher or warrant by a county employee to procure payment for services rendered by inmates or wards of a county home would be a violation of the law.

Berserk Man Is Killed by Lawman's Gun

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A Muskingum County man shattered the quiet at nearby Hopewell when he decided to fight it out with more than a dozen law officers. When the shooting was over, 29-year-old Wayland Osborn lay dead victim of a lawman's bullet.

The Muskingum County Sheriff's Office said Osborn believed to be an oil field laborer, apparently went berserk Sunday.

They said Mrs. Linda Osborn, the victim's sister-in-law, called authorities to report that Osborn had threatened to kill everyone in his home at Rt. 1, Hopewell.

Osborn's mother wife and child, the sister-in-law and her child were all in the home. They said they begged Osborn to let them leave the house, and for some unexplained reason he did.

When a patrol car pulled up in front of the residence, Osborn fired two shots and the deputies radioed for help.

At least a dozen men responded to the call and surrounded the area. They said Osborn was shooting at anyone who came within view and finally took cover behind a garage door. A bullet that pierced the door, dropped Osborn in his tracks, wounding him fatally.

Insurance Salesman Who Sold $7 Million Policy Gives Advice

By LEONARD J. SNYDER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

LOS ANGELES — Frank Nathan is not the nation's top life insurance salesman, but he is the man who recently made life insurance history with a $7 million sale.

The annual premium of the $7 million policy on the life of an undisclosed 46-year-old executive totals $238,000. That's $34,000 for each $1 million on the insured's life.

Nathan, a 59-year-old Beverly Hills veteran of 32 years with New York Life Insurance Company, has sold more than $50 million worth of life insurance during his career, including a half dozen million dollar policies to persons ranging in age from 20 to 57, and one with a face value of $2,225,000 to a 49-year-old business man.

The annual premium on these policies total $515,000, which means a comfortable living for Nathan. What makes Nathan run? Or, put another way, what kind of salesmanship does it take to sell a million dollar life insurance policy?

Millions of American policy-holders probably think of salesmen, particularly an insurance salesman, as characters who like to knock your front door down. While this may be so, Nathan thinks this type of rugged individual is on the way out because life insurance has just become too complicated to sell on the run.

"I don't have any quarrel with aggressive salesmanship, but I do feel it's better to be invited in the front door, rather than be compelled to bang it down," says the insurance ace.

Nathan doesn't put himself in that class of salesmen who can sell people something they probably don't need by some spell-binding tactics. "I rather think of myself as a technician assisting people to find the solution to their problems rather than as a salesman," he said.

"If you can call a person's attention a problem that exists, but that they do not even recognize themselves, either because of their own lack of knowledge on the subject, or because they have not taken the time to investigate it, and then present them with a solution, the sale usually follows withution, the sale usually follows with-pressure." In his own case, Nathan does not go out looking for million dollar insurance prospects. He says, "I just look for people who I believe have substantial needs for insurance and let the facts of their particular situation determine the amount."

As you might expect, those to whom he has sold policies for $1 million or more have estates in excess of $1 million. Five of these eight millionaires were covered under what is called "Key Man" insurance in favor of their companies.

The size of their policies was largely determined by the need for indemnification in the event of the loss of the key man.

In some of these Key Man policies, said Nathan, the proceeds would be used partially for corporation purpose and partially to help the executive solve his own problem by making it possible for the executive's retirement some of the stock he owned in the corporation.

Nathan doesn't possess "a bag of tricks" as part of his stock in trade but he does lean on some tax-saving ideas to build his sizeable volume of sales.

The principal tax saving idea he uses he describes this way: "As long as the inheritance and estate taxes are going to have to be paid in any event, why pay them with 100 cents on the dollar when insurance offers a method whereby they might be paid with discounted dollars?"

To explain this, he adds, "Let's assume that for a man of 50 the gross premium is approximately four per cent of the face value of the policy. If this insured man died after paying one premium on a policy carried specifically to pay the death taxes, he has only paid 4 per cent of the total tax and there has been a 96 per cent discount."

"If he lived 10 years, he would have only paid 40 per cent of the tax, but he would have to live beyond 75 to have ever paid his tax in full. The government will give no discount on taxes, but through the use of insurance the policyholder is almost certain to pay his tax at some discount."

Nathan points out that such professional knowledge as this appeals both economically and mathematically to any estate-owner who is willing to look realistically at his problems of transferring his estate to his beneficiaries.

And this really gets to the heart of the question of "What makes Nathan run?" He knows his business and makes sure his business is known to those in Big Business.

MRS. STEPHEN EDWARD TWAY

Miss Virginia Claire Bryant, daughter of Mrs. Paul Everett Bryant, New Holland, and the late Mr. Bryant, became the bride of Mr. Stephen Edward Tway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Tway, New Holland, 2:30 p. m. yesterday in the New Holland Methodist Church.

The Rev. Orlo Freshley performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of white Fugi mums, asters, greenery and candelabra. White satin bows marked the family pews.

Mr. Wilfred Hupp, organist, presented the following selections: "Dawn", "O Perfect Love", "Devotion", "Etude", "Souvenir", "To a Wild Rose", "Adoration", "Bridal Chorus" and "The Wedding March". Miss Carol McFadden, vocalist, sang, "Because", "O Promise Me" and "I Love Thee". Miss Karen Carman sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. James M. Bryant, the bride wore a floor length princess style gown of white silk organza over bridal taffeta with seed pearl encrustment from neck to hemline on the front panel, designed with an oval neckline and long sleeves that tapered to points over the hands. The controlled silhouette skirt flowed into a wide chapel train. A queen's coronet trimmed with pearly orange blossoms held her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a cascade of white Fugi mums.

Miss Karen Carman, Washington C. H., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Patti Hidy, Washington C. H., cousin of the bride, Miss Ronda Tway, New Holland, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Jennifer Ankrom, New Holland and Mrs. Richard Edwards, Washington C. H. They wore identical afternoon length dresses of red satin, brocade fashioned with molded bodices and scoop necklines. The skirts, accented at the waistline with red satin sashes looped and bowed at the side, featured a series of deep box pleats forming bell silhouettes. Red satin Dior bows with circle veils completed their ensembles. The honor attendant carried a basket of white asters and red feathered carnations and the bridesmaids carried baskets of white asters.

Miss Debbie Edwards, Washington C. H., was flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of white silk organza over taffeta. Her circle veil was caught to white roses and she carried a basket of white asters and red feathered carnations.

Mr. Charles Ungetheum, Milford, O. served as best man and ushers were Mr. Bernard J. May Jr., New York, N. Y., Mr. Richard Neibert, Vandalia, Mr. Harold Thompson, Washington C. H. and Mr. Ted Tway, New Holland, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding an ice blue sheath dress of satin brocade with blue accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore an eggshell satin brocade dress with matching jacket and brown accessories. Both wore corsages of white sweetheart roses.

A reception was held in the church social parlors for 300 guests. The bride's table was centered with a five-tiered wedding cake surrounded with honeysuckle and white asters. Hostesses were Mrs. Harold Thompson, Mrs. Glenn Merritt, Mrs. Ted Kline, Miss Eileen Tway, Miss Kay Bush, Miss Carol Bowdle and Mrs. Clifford Hughes.

47 Attend Ashville Civic Club Meeting

The Ashville Women's Civic Club, a member of the Ohio Federated Women's Clubs, held their first meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Art Deal Jr., president, Ashville. Forty-seven members and guests were present.

Jim Deal entertained the group with three selections on the organ followed by Mrs. William Snyder leading devotions. The group repeated the club collect and sang, "America, the Beautiful".

Mrs. Stanley Bowers, program chairman, introduced the following girls who attended this year's Girls State: Patty Collins, Patty Barr, Ruth Sowers and Barbara Brown. Each gave a brief account of her experiences at Girl's State. Other guests who spoke briefly were Patty Frazier, 1960 scholarship recipient; Marty Dore, 1961 recipient; and Ellen Snyder, 1963 recipient. All three of these girls are attending Ohio State University.

Larry Priest and Wendall Emerine, both members of the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce, distributed informative pamphlets and spoke on the need of the expansion of Berger Hospital. They explained the special election to be held on this levy Sept. 24 and asked the club to discuss this further during their business session and take a vote to determine if the club would endorse and back this levy. A vote of the club members was taken later during the business session and the group was split on their decision with 18 for and 18 against.

Mrs. Elaine Umstead, Scioto St., Ashville, was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Tom Purcell, acting secretary, read newly made recommendations from the executive committee, on the giving of flowers and gifts.

The Scholarship Committee composed of Miss Nelle Osterle, chairman, Mrs. George Gardner and Mrs. Benis Lutz met recently on the request of the club to set new goals for the annual scholarship that is given yearly to a graduating senior at Teays Valley High School. Miss Osterle read the newly set rules made by her committee to be approved by the club. It was voted by the club to raise this scholarship from $200 to $400 beginning with the 1963 recipient.

The book, "The Ohio Heritage" now being sold by the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, was shown and members were urged to sell copies. A committee of Mrs. Felix Dore, Mrs. Lowell Cooper and Mrs. Richard Snider were asked to distribute these in the Teays Valley School District, especially to 7th and 8th grade students who would benefit from them in their studies on Ohio History.

Members voted to give their record player, which was purchased several years previous for their summer skating program, to the Ashville Girl Scout Neighborhood Association with the assumption that the club may borrow it if needed.

Mrs. Harry Margulis and Mrs. Warren Bastian were appointed by the president to assemble a club scrapbook to be entered at the District VII Fall Conference to be held Oct. 9 in Columbus.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Bowers introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Mrs.

DEAR ABBY: What am I to do? I am a respectable woman in my fifties. While I was clerking in a department store a middle-aged man walked over to my counter, stood directly in front of me, didn't say a word, but he winked at me. I picked up a lady's corset (I was in "women's intimate apparel") and slapped him across the face with it. A metal garter cut his eyeball slightly, but he didn't go blind or anything like that. He is suing the store. I lost my job, and it turned out that he had a nervous tic and meant no harm. Should I be blamed?

DEAR LUCKLESS: Even if the man had had no nervous tic, and he actually WINKED at you, you were wrong to strike him. (You could have called the manager.) Perhaps he is lucky you weren't "in housewares". You might have parted his hair with a frying pan.

DEAR ABBY: Don't be so ready to encourage women to rid themselves of facial hair. Female facial down is far from repugnant to all males. It is a sign of robust health, strength and character. Mediterranean, Greek and Spanish women for centuries have regarded their facial hair as a thing of beauty. The current rage for removing every speck of hair that cannot be worked into a coiffure is an abomination. Unless a woman has handle bars that might poke a man's eye out, she ought to leave her facial fuzz alone. Her man, when he comes along, will not regard her as a "lemon"—but as a real "peach".

DEAR LUCKLESS: Where ARE you? Please come to my office. The girls don't believe you are for real. (And don't forget the mustache wax!)

DEAR ABBY: My husband and

Carl Jackson of Columbus and President of District VII of the Ohio Federation. Mrs. Jackson gave a most informative talk on the importance of the department chairmen and their duties. At the close of her remarks she was given a planter from the club in appreciation of her appearance.

Refreshments were served from a tea table centered with an arrangement of roses in a crystal bowl, from the garden of Mrs. Roger Hedges, with pink tapers in matching crystal holders. Mrs. Purcell and Mrs. Bowers presided at the punch bowl.

The following hospitality committee was in charge of the refreshments: Mrs. Joe Brewer, Mrs. Jim Courtright, Mrs. John Downs, Mrs. Wayne Bisker, Mrs. Joe Hedges, Mrs. John Little and Mrs. Howard Hosler.

Mrs. Harry Margulis and Mrs. Warren Bastian were appointed by the president to assemble a club scrapbook to be entered at the District VII Fall Conference to be held Oct. 9 in Columbus.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Bowers introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Mrs.

I have been having a big argument about you. He says that you are not a woman, you are a man writing that Dear Abby column. I say you are definitely a woman. Please answer this in the paper because he says all the people at work think he's right. He wants to bet me.

DEAR RENE: Bet him You'll win. And my husband will be glad to back you up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PEARL: The world is your oyster. Why don't you start with Phoenix?

Wife Preservers

When you patch plaster, you'll find it easier to work with two putty knives than one. Choose one wide and one narrow one, and you'll be able to keep them both clean easily, as well as reaching all variety of spots.

Add a little mustard and Worcestershire sauce to mashed blue cheese and use as a filling for "stuffed" hamburgers. Men usually like this combination.

Standing roasts of beef may be cooked straight from the freezer but allow extra time for the oven roasting. If you give yourself a half-hour leeway, you should be on the safe side.

Miss Bryant, Mr. Tway Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

MRS. STEPHEN EDWARD TWAY

Miss Virginia Claire Bryant, daughter of Mrs. Paul Everett Bryant, New Holland, and the late Mr. Bryant, became the bride of Mr. Stephen Edward Tway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Tway, New Holland, 2:30 p. m. yesterday in the New Holland Methodist Church.

The Rev. Orlo Freshley performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of white Fuji mums, asters, greenery and candelabra. White satin bows marked the family pews.

Mr. Wilfred Hupp, organist, presented the following selections: "Dawn," "O Perfect Love," "Devotion," "Etude," "Souvenir," "To a Wild Rose," "Adoration," "Bridal Chorus" and "The Wedding March." Miss Carol McFadden, vocalist, sang, "Because," "O Promise Me" and "I Love Thee." Miss Karen Carman sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. James M. Bryant, the bride wore a floor length princess style gown of white silk organza over bridal taffeta with seed pearl encrustment from neck to hemline on the front panel, designed with an oval neckline and long sleeves that tapered to points over the hands. The controlled silhouette skirt flowed into a wide chapel train. A queen's coronet trimmed with pearlized orange blossoms held her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a cascade of white Fuji mums.

Miss Karen Carman, Washington C. H., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Patti Hidy, Washington C. H., cousin of the bride, Miss Ronda Tway, New Holland, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Jennifer Ankrom, New Holland and Mrs. Richard Edwards, Washington C. H. They wore identical afternoon length dresses of red satin brocade fashioned with molded bodices and scoop necklines. The skirts, accented at the waistline with red satin sashes looped and bowed at the side, featured a series of deep box pleats forming bell silhouettes. Red satin floor bows with circle veils completed their ensembles. The honor attendant carried a basket of white asters and red feathered carnations and the bridesmaids carried baskets of white asters.

Miss Debbie Edwards, Washington C. H., was flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of white silk organza over taffeta. Her circle veil was caught to white roses and she carried a basket of white asters and red feathered carnations.

Mr. Charles Ungetheum, Milford, O., served as best man and ushers were Mr. Bernard J. May Jr., New York, N. Y., Mr. Richard Neibert, Vandalia, Mr. Harold Thompson, Washington C. H., and Mr. Ted Tway, New Holland, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding an ice blue sheath dress of satin brocade with blue accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore an eggshell satin brocade dress with matching jacket and brown accessories. Both wore corsages of white sweetheart roses.

A reception was held in the church social parlors for 300 guests. The bride's table was centered with a five-tiered wedding cake surrounded with honeysuckle and white asters. Hostesses were Mrs. Harold Thompson, Mrs. Glenn Merritt, Mrs. Ted Kline, Miss Eileen Tway, Miss Kay Bush, Miss Carol Bowdle and Mrs. Clifford Hughes.

For a short wedding trip the new Mrs. Tway wore a gold dacton dress with brown accessories. The couple will reside in Oxford, O.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of New Holland High School and was employed at the J. C. Penney Co., Washington C. H., prior to her marriage.

Mr. Tway is a 1961 graduate of New Holland High School and attended Morehead State College, Morehead, Ky. He is now enrolled at Miami University, Oxford.

Out-of-town guests were from Circleville, Ashville, South Bloomfield, Sedalia, Bloomingburg, Greenfield, Frankfort, Jackson, Wellston, Oak Hill, Cleveland, Bellefontaine, Leesburg, Jeffersonville, Williamsport, Atlanta, Vandalia, Lorain, Milford, Westerville, Mt. Sterling, Amanda, Chillicothe, Sabina, Washington C. H., New York, N. Y., Detroit, Mich., Hemlock, Mich., Cincinnati, Dayton, Springfield and Columbus.

Mrs. Paul Bryant honored her daughter with a dinner party at her home Thursday evening. Guests included the attendants.

47 Attend Ashville Civic Club Meeting

The Ashville Women's Civic Club, a member of the Ohio Federated Women's Clubs, held their first meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Art Deal Jr., president, Ashville. Forty-seven members and guests were present.

Jim Deal entertained the group with three selections on the organ followed by Mrs. William Snyder leading devotions. The group repeated the club collect and sang, "America, the Beautiful."

Mrs. Stanley Bowers, program chairman, introduced the following girls who attended this year's Girls State: Patty Collins, Patty Barr, Ruth Sowers and Barbara Brown. Each gave a brief account of her experiences at Girl's State. Other guests who spoke briefly were Patty Frazier, 1960 scholarship recipient; Marty Dore, 1961 recipient; and Ellen Snyder, 1963 recipient. All three of these girls are attending Ohio State University.

Larry Priest and Wendall Emeline, both members of the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce, distributed informative pamphlets and spoke on the need of the expansion of Berger Hospital. They explained the special election to be held on this 1963 Sept. 24 and asked the club to discuss this further during their business session and take a vote to determine if the club would endorse and back this levy. A vote of the club members was taken later during the business session and the group was split on their decision with 18 for and 18 against.

Mrs. Elaine Umstead, Scioto St., Ashville, was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Tom Purcell, acting secretary, read newly made recommendations from the executive committee, on the giving of flowers and gifts.

The Scholarship Committee composed of Miss Nelle Oesterle, chairman, Mrs. George Gardner and Mrs. Benis Lutz met recently on the request of the club to set new goals for the annual scholarship that is given yearly to a graduating senior at Teays Valley High School. Miss Oesterle read the newly set rules made by her committee to be approved by the club. It was voted by the club to raise this scholarship from $200 to $400 beginning with the 1963 recipient.

The book, "The Ohio Heritage" now being sold by the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, was shown and members were urged to send copies. A committee of Mrs. Felix Dore, Mrs. Lowell Cooper and Mrs. Richard Snider were asked to distribute these in the Teays Valley School District, especially to 7th and 8th grade students who would benefit from them in their studies on Ohio History.

Members voted to give their record player, which was purchased several years previous for their summer skating program, to the Ashville Girl Scout Neighborhood Association with the assumption that the club may borrow it if needed.

Mrs. Harry Margulis and Mrs. Warren Bastian were appointed by the president to assemble a club scrapbook to be entered at the District VII Fall Conference to be held Oct. 9 in Columbus.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Bowers introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Mrs.

The Circleville Herald, Mon. September 9, 1963
Circleville, Ohio

EX-TIGER AND COACH — Vern Reichmanis, a promising tackle candidate at the University of Toledo, is shown talking to new head football coach Frank X. Lauterbur. Reichmanis was an All-South Central Ohio League choice while a member of the Circleville High School football team. Dave Hannahs, All-SCO quarterback, is a member of the freshman team at Toledo.

Former Tiger Is Rocket Candidate

Former Circleville High School All-SCO footballers Verners Reichmanis was one of 47 invited candidates who began 1963 grid drills at the University of Toledo on Sept. 1.

Reichmanis, who played on Circleville's first South Central Ohio League football championship team in 10 years and also starred in track and wrestling, won his numerals as a Toledo freshman last season. This fall he will be trying for a tackle berth with the Rockets of new coach and athletic director Frank X. Lauterbur.

Reichmanis reported to Toledo at a trimmed-down 230 pounds after spending the summer working for a plumber and roofer and, in Vern's words, "using my spare time for fishing and eating — but no whipped potatoes!"

The former Circleville griddier is enrolled in Toledo's College of Education with a major in social sciences. He is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Reichmanis, of 612 E. Mound St. in Circleville.

WHILE AT Circleville High School, Reichmanis lettered twice in football, twice in track and three times in wrestling, finishing fourth in the central district heavyweight wrestling competition.

At 230-pounds, he is one of the biggest grid candidates at Toledo. Listed as a third string tackle at the beginning of the season, Lauterbur says Reichmanis has the size that may earn him some action this season.

The Rockets finished with a 3-6 season last year under Clive Rush.

Lauterbur, the fifth coach at Toledo in the past eight years, will install the wing-T offense and his own version of the "monster defense" which he organized at Army, installed last year at Pitt and helped teach at Villanova and Miami of Florida.

The kind of football Lauterbur shows Toledo fans will be noticeably different from the split-T, quarterback-fullback offense Rocket teams have employed for three seasons. In the spring game the two intrasquad units threw more than 40 passes.

The Rockets are fortified in lettermen at only two positions, center and quarterback.

DEPTH is fair at all other positions except the guards and fullback. There are two experienced ends, Jeff Martin and Dave Rhodes, three proven tackles in Wynn Lembright, Bob Wozniak and Dave Kregel, and half a dozen promising halfbacks.

There are no lettermen available at fullback. The guards are apparently the big problem for Lauterbur.

The Rockets face a rugged schedule, opening Sept. 21 at Dayton. On Sept. 28 they host Villanova University in a night game beginning at 8 p. m.

Dave Hannahs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Hannahs, 560 Springhollow Road, is a member of the frosh unit at Toledo.

SPORTS Highlights

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Tired, weary and upset, Jack Nicklaus, the Masters and PGA champion, still had enough steam left Sunday to turn back an Arnold Palmer challenge and repeat for the top prize of $50,000 in the $75,000 World Series of Golf.

The 23-year-old Buckeye belter from Columbus, Ohio, several times blew sizeable leads in the two-day playoff but came up with the necessary shots on crucial holes.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
In 1920, the New York Yankees bought a left-handed pitcher from the Boston Red Sox. It changed baseball and ruined the American League.

These days the Yankees—who had never seen a pennant until the purchase of Babe Ruth—grow their own left-handers, and win the pennant every year.

This year's pennant clinching—the fourth straight, 13th of 15, 28th since 1921—should come along before another weekend rolls around. In case the suspense is killing you, the magic number is now four.

Mets Win Series Against Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds hit a new low Sunday in losing to the New York Mets, 3-2.

The victory gave the National League last place club the series, 2-1, and dealt a severe blow to the Reds' chances of finishing among the first four.

The victory went to Jay Hook, a former Red, and was the first he had won as a starter since May 30. It also was only his fourth victory against 12 losses.

Joe Nuxhall was the losing pitcher. He personally helped along the defeat with a bad throw on which one runner scored and a wild pitch which set up another marker.

Local Youth Completes 50-Mile Swim

Fifteen year old Terry Lewis, 275 Lewis Road, was the first member of the Circleville Swim Club to complete 50 miles in the Swim and Stay Fit program sponsored by the Red Cross.

Swimming has long been recognized as one of the best activities for building and maintaining strength and vigor. With national emphasis being given to physical fitness, the Pickaway County Red Cross chapter this summer expanded its water safety program to include the Swim and Stay Fit activity.

Swim and Stay Fit is planned to encourage individuals to swim regularly until they have reached 50 miles. It is not a race or endurance contest. The goal is to improve the physical fitness of the swimmer.

Terry, who also belongs to the Circleville Swim Team, averaged 2 miles a day to complete the 50 miles. After every two miles Terry reported to program monitor, Mary Susa, who kept a record of his miles on the monitor wall chart. Certificates are given after individuals have swum the distances of 10, 20, 30, 40 and 50 miles.

SWIM AND STAY FIT — Terry Lewis averaged two miles a day in completing 50 miles of swimming in the Red Cross Swim and Stay fit program. He is the first participant to complete the distance in the program conducted at the Circleville Swim Club.

Fyffe, Ramey Named Tigers By Grid Staff

List, Pharr Close Contenders for Top Honors in 1st Tilt

Duke Fyffe and Mike Ramey were named Tigers of the week by the Circleville coaching staff for their play in the Olenangy game Friday night.

Fyffe is the top backfield candidate of the week while Ramey earned lineman honors.

Under Coach Paul Starr's grading system, each football player is graded on a percentage basis. Taken into consideration are the number of defensive and offensive situations in the game.

Scores of from 90 to 100 are considered "championship football," and scores in the 80 to 89 bracket are "winning football." The next group, scores of from 65 to 79 are "mediocre football," and any grade below 65 is what Starr calls "Sweet Alice Blues."

"AND WE had a lot of those 'Sweet Alice Blues' this week," Starr said.

Ramey and Fyffe both played "winning football." Real close in the race for the top lineman, were John Pharr, and Joe List.

Friday night there were 95 defensive and offensive plays.

Scores as a whole were pretty "lousy" in Friday's tilt, according to Starr.

"But if we get those mistakes worked out, we should have a football team," said Starr, expressing some pleasure in the potential exhibited by Circleville.

The coaching staff graded the gridders after a careful study of the game films yesterday.

THE FIRST of the Booster nights will be held Wednesday. The meetings will be open to both men and women. At that time, game films will be shown, and a brief scouting report of the next Tiger foe will be released.

The time and place of the meeting will be announced.

Princeton holds a 28-4 edge in its football rivalry with Columbia.

Dupas Loses Boxing Crown

MILAN, Italy (AP) — There were plenty of loud and angry cries from Ralph Dupas' corner but little comment today from Sandro Mazzinghi of Italy, the new world junior middleweight boxing champion.

Mazzinghi dethroned the New Orleans veteran Saturday night when he stopped Dupas in the ninth round. The Italian was in command almost all the way and in the ninth floored Dupas with a right. Dupas tried to get up at the count of seven but wobbled around instead and the referee called a halt to the bout.

Mazzinghi was non-committal about a possible rematch, but there was plenty of yelling from Dupas and his official family.

"The referee had no right to stop the fight," Dupas said. "I was ready to fight and I fail to understand why he counted on until nine and 10."

Jacobs Pockets Utah Open Purse

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Tommy Jacobs is back on the victory trail after a long detour, narrowly winning the $40,000 Utah Open Golf Tournament.

Jacobs had to survive a charge by Don January and his own jitters to win first-place money of an $400 in the tournament, is first victory since January 1962.

The 28-year-old pro from Bermuda Dunes, Calif., posted a 33 and a 37 for a par 70 over the 6,984-yard Salt Lake Country Club course in Sunday's closing round for a total of 72.

That was one stroke better than January, who had a final round 33-3-68 after starting the day three strokes back of Jacobs and slipping as far back as five strokes at one point.

Ashville Team Wins 2 of 3 at WCH Tourney

The Ashville Gregory Trailer Court softball team, won two of three games in the Washington C. H. invitational tournament during the weekend.

In the first game Saturday, they downed Cincinnati Stop Inn 2-1 behind the four hit pitching of Keny Reid. Fred Davis clouted a homerun to provide one of the runs for the Ashville nine.

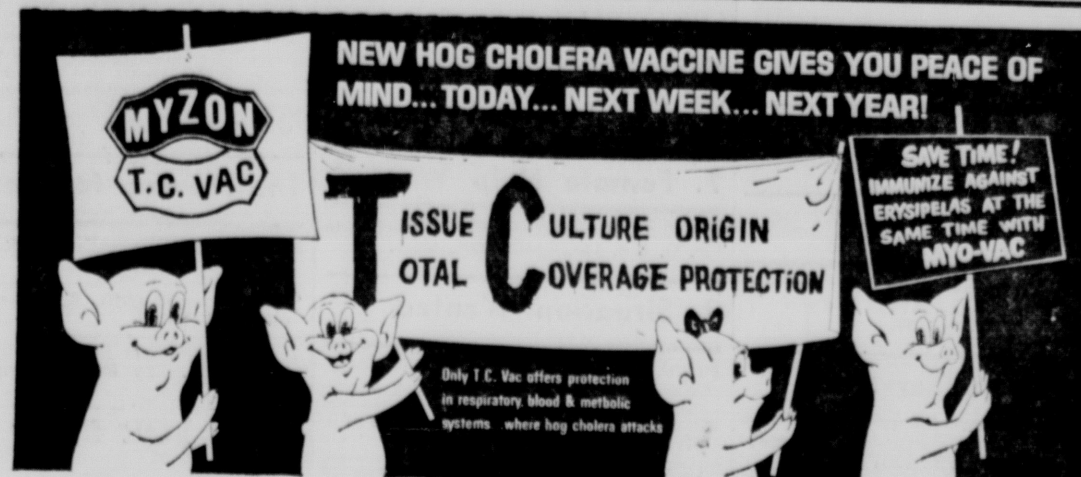

In the second game of the double elimination tournament, they defeated Marietta 8-6.

Converse and Schrou teamed up to hurl the win. Bumgarner blasted a pair of home runs and a double to pace the winners at bat while Hix and Wilson tripled. Davis had a pair of doubles.

In their third tilt they were defeated by Akron, 5-0. Mitchell was the Gregory pitcher. The local team was held to one hit, a single by Harold Gulick. Sunday the local team plays at 3 p. m. In order to win the tournament the locals will have to post five consecutive victories according to a spokesman for the team.

Baltimore Orioles pitcher Steve Barber never had a winning season in the minor leagues. He's never had a losing season in the majors.

EX-TIGER AND COACH — Vern Reichmanis, a promising tackle candidate at the University of Toledo, is shown talking to new head football coach Frank X. Lauterbur. Reichmanis was an All-South Central Ohio League choice while a member of the Circleville High School football team. Dave Hannahs, All-SCO quarterback, is a member of the freshman team at Toledo.

Former Tiger Is Rocket Candidate

Former Circleville High School All-SCO footballers Verners Reichmanis was one of 47 invited candidates who began 1963 grid drills at the University of Toledo on Sept. 1.

Reichmanis, who played on Circleville's first South Central Ohio League football championship team in 10 years and also starred in track and wrestling, won his numerals as a Toledo freshman last season. This fall he will be trying for a tackle berth with the Rockets of new coach and athletic director Frank X. Lauterbur.

Reichmanis reported to Toledo at a trimmed-down 230 pounds after spending the summer working for a plumber and roofer and, in Vern's words, "using my spare time for fishing and eating — but no whipped potatoes!" The former Circleville gridder is enrolled in Toledo's College of Education with a major in social sciences. He is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Reichmanis, of 612 E. Mound St. in Circleville.

WHILE AT Circleville High School, Reichmanis lettered twice in football, twice in track and three times in wrestling, finishing fourth in the central district heavyweight wrestling competition.

At 230-pounds, he is one of the biggest grid candidates at Toledo. Listed as a third string tackle at the beginning of the season, Lauterbur says Reichmanis has the size that may earn him some action this season.

The Rockets finished with a 3-6 season last year under Clive Rush.

Lauterbur, the fifth coach at Toledo in the past eight years, will install the wing-T offense and his own version of the "monster defense" which he organized at Army, installed last year at Pitt and helped teach at Villanova and Miami of Florida.

The kind of football Lauterbur shows Toledo fans will be noticeably different from the split-T, quarterback-fullback offense Rocket teams have employed for three seasons. In the spring game the two intrasquad units threw more than 40 passes.

The Rockets are fortified in lettermen at only two positions, center and quarterback.

DEPTH is fair at all other positions except the guards and fullback. There are two experienced ends, Jeff Martin and Dave Rhodes, three proven tackles in Wynn Lumbright, Bob Wozniak and Dave Kregel, and half a dozen promising halfbacks.

There are no lettermen available at fullback. The guards are apparently the big problem for Lauterbur.

The Rockets face a rugged schedule, opening Sept. 21 at Dayton. On Sept. 28 they host Villanova University in a night game beginning at 8 p. m.

Dave Hannahs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Hannahs, 560 Springhollow Road is a member of the frosh unit at Toledo.

SPORTS Highlights

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Tired, weary and upset, Jack Nicklaus, the Masters and PGA champion, still had enough steam left Sunday to turn back an Arnold Palmer challenge and repeat for the top prize of $50,000 in the $75,000 World Series of Golf.

The 23-year-old Buckeye belter from Columbus, Ohio, several times blew sizeable leads in the two-day playoff but came up with the necessary shots on crucial holes.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS In 1920, the New York Yankees bought a left-handed pitcher from the Boston Red Sox. It changed baseball and ruined the American League.

These days the Yankees—who had never seen a pennant until the purchase of Babe Ruth—grow their own left-handers, and win the pennant every year.

This year's pennant clinching—the fourth straight, 13th of 15, 28th since 1921—should come along before another weekend rolls around. In case the suspense is killing you, the magic number is now four.

'64 Candidates To Initiate New Petitions

Candidates filing for office in Pickaway County and Ohio in 1964, and thereafter, will be required to use newly prescribed declaration of candidacy and nominating petition forms, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown noted today.

Brown has prescribed and sent to Board of Elections today these 1964 forms along with other new forms needed to meet statutory requirements resulting from new laws passed by the 105th General Assembly.

To avoid confusion, he said, new forms needed after 1964 in the odd-numbered years, will be prescribed a little later, allowing Boards an opportunity to make the transition to new 1964 forms and administrative procedures first.

Another set of new forms sent to Boards now are ones to be used in connection with this year's general election in notifying candidates of the necessity of filing statements of receipts and expenditures. Boards were advised that under the new law they must, following the election, notify candidates by certified mail — that first-class mail is not sufficient.

BROWN said that House Bill No. 570, which caused him to prescribe the new forms for candidate filing, which becomes effective Jan. 1, 1964, establishes a set of uniform rules governing the form, circulation, signing and filing of petitions, eliminating confusion brought about in the past by different rules governing one set of petitions from others. He said he sought the aid of the legislature in clearing up these differences which caused difficulties and often led to litigation.

Secretary of State Brown said Boards of Elections are already working with their past offices in setting up procedures for use of certified mail in notifying Nov. 5 candidates of their responsibilities in filing receipt and expense statements. He said he prescribed the forms early to aid the Boards in the great amount of book work and reports which they must do in addition to their other duties of conducting elections and tabulating votes.

A motorcycle escort brought the bridal couple to the church separately and they entered by a back door.

Jacqueline, whose father, John Vernou Bouvier 3rd, was ill, came escorted by her stepfather, wealthy Washington stockbroker Hugh D. Auchincloss. She was loudly applauded and police had to call for more men and ropes to keep back the crowd.

The bride was preceded by her matron of honor, her younger sister, Caroline Lee Bouvier, 20, now the wife of Polish Prince Stanislas Radziwill, but then only recently married to Michael T. Canfield of New York, secretary to U.S. Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich. Maid of honor was stepmother Nina G. Auchincloss, now married to political hopeful Newton Steers of Bethesda, Md., an investment broker and a Republican.

Kennedy's best man was his brother, Robert F. Kennedy, now attorney general.

A longtime Kennedy family friend, Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, pronounced the Kennedys man and wife and was celebrant of the nuptial Mass, which included a special blessing from Pope Pius XII.

After the wedding, a gay reception started at the huge, rambling gray-shingled Hammersmith Farm home overlooking Narragansett Bay that had been in the Auchincloss family for more than 70 years and is often used now as a presidential vacation spot.

The traffic jam was so great getting to the reception that cars were backed up nearly half a mile.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Dr. John W. Schentz of Columbus, Ohio, has been selected to head a drive to raise $1 million for expanding facilities at the Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery. Dr. Schentz is president of the college's alumni association.

Cincy Tempers Flare In Sunday Sales Fuss

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tempers flared briefly as labor union members picketed a discount store Sunday for staying open on Sunday. One man was arrested. Five suburban Evendale policemen restored order at Rink's Bargain Barn after a private policeman allegedly told a motorist to run over pickets trying to block the parking lot entrance.

It would not, however, prevent continued U.S. development in underground tests and in space.

Mansfield, like Dirksen, predicted ratification of the treaty. He said he would be satisfied with a required two thirds vote and "something extra for insurance."

Two other powerful senators, the top Democrat and the senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, open the Senate debate with their endorsement of the ban on all but underground atomic blasts.

"The simple compelling fact of the times," Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said in his prepared remarks, "is that no nation would be likely to survive as an organized society in a nuclear war."

"It is this prospect . . . that makes it essential for us to break out of the fatal cycle of fear and armaments and greater fear and finally war."

"The nuclear test - ban treaty will not break the cycle. It is far too modest an effort to have more than a marginal effect on the conflict between the Communist and free worlds."

"But if it is faithfully observed, this treaty can in some small measure mitigate the fears and suspicions of the cold war and perhaps in time lead to further measures of limited accommodation."

After Fulbright speaks, Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, ranking Republican on the committee and chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, is expected to follow with an endorsement of the treaty.

The Foreign Relations Committee held extensive hearings on the pact and then recommended ratification, 16-1. The lone dissenter was Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La. The Senate Armed Services subcommittee held separate, secret hearings on the treaty, and unlike the foreign relations group made no direct recommendation.

Three subcommittee members, Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., and Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., have announced they will vote against ratification. A fourth member, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., has said he has not yet made up his mind about how he will vote.

Two other senators, Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., and Stuart Symington, D-Mo., have announced for ratification. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, is expected to join them.

'64 Candidates To Initiate New Petitions

Candidates filing for office in Pickaway County and Ohio in 1964, and thereafter, will be required to use newly prescribed declaration of candidacy and nominating petition forms, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown noted today.

Brown has prescribed and sent to Board of Elections today these 1964 forms along with other new forms needed to meet statutory requirements resulting from new laws passed by the 155th General Assembly.

To avoid confusion, he said, new forms needed after 1964 in the odd-numbered years, will be prescribed a little later, allowing Boards an opportunity to make the transition to new 1964 forms and administrative procedures first.

Another set of new forms sent to Boards now are ones to be used in connection with this year's general election in notifying candidates of the necessity of filing statements of receipts and expenditures. Boards were advised that under the new law they must, following the election, notify candidates by certified mail—that first-class mail is not sufficient.

BROWN said that House Bill No. 370, which caused him to prescribe the new forms for candidate filing, which becomes effective Jan. 1, 1964, establishes a set of uniform rules governing the form, circulation, signing and filing of petitions, eliminating confusion brought about in the past by different rules governing one set of petitions from others. He said he sought the aid of the legislature in clearing up these differences which caused difficulties and often led to litigation.

Secretary of State Brown said Boards of Elections are already working with their post offices in setting up procedures for use of certified mail in notifying Nov. 5 candidates of their responsibilities in filing receipt and expense statements. He said he prescribed the forms early to aid the Boards in the great amount of book work and reports which they must do in addition to their other duties of conducting elections and tabulating votes.
